

Commercial Court CPD & CLE at Monash Seminar

Early Neutral Evaluation: What clients want and what cases need.

- What is early neutral evaluation?
- How does it work?
- How does the process differ from mediation?
- What role do the Bar and Solicitors have to play?

Chair

Justice Jennifer Davies, Supreme Court of Victoria

Presenters

Professor Camille Cameron, Melbourne University,
Faculty of Law

Ms Wendy Harris, Barrister, the Victorian Bar

Ms Abigail McGregor, Partner, Norton Rose

Early Neutral Evaluation is a new valuable tool for practitioners to secure early resolution of their clients' disputes before incurring avoidable costs. Commercial decision making can be informed by informal judicial evaluation of key issues.

Modern commercial practitioners need to know how ENE works, when it might be effective and when to recommend it to their commercial clients.
