

Commercial Court CPD & CLE Seminar at Monash

ADR: Developments you need to know about

- The role of the Court in ADR
- The latest trends in the United States
- Where should we be going?

Dispute resolution may take a number of different forms within and outside the processes of the Court. Courts are actively exploring and implementing non-adversarial means of dispute resolution as a means of increasing affordable access to justice.

Chair

Justice Clyde Croft, Supreme Court of Victoria

Presenters

Justice James Judd, Supreme Court of Victoria: will speak on the United States and Canadian Court experiences in judicial mediation and ADR in the Supreme Court.

Mr Henry Jolson QC, the Victorian Bar: will speak on the role of the profession in effective Court connected ADR.

Mr Tim McFarlane, Solicitor, McFarlane Legal: will speak on what consumers want.

This is an opportunity for legal practitioners to invite clients or other practitioners to hear first hand about these developments.
